

I'm More Than a Parkinson's Patient

I'm a gardener

Parkinson's Disease is what I have, not what I am. My life with Parkinson's is challenging, but possible.

The University of Tennessee Medical Center delivers comprehensive care for people with Parkinson's Disease. Philanthropic support to the not-for-profit academic medical center, when designated for Parkinson's, stays here in East Tennessee and supports Parkinson's Disease patient care and research. Our mission is to serve through healing, education and discovery.

You have the power to make a difference with your gift. For inquiries contact us at the Office of Philanthropy. Thank you.
